RANDOM FACTS

Šibenik was built as a castrum at the bottom of the St Michael's fortress which dominates the town even today. There are three more fortresses in Šibenik which prove its importance and strength: St John, St Nicholas and Šubićevac.

Šibenik is a town with a total of 24 churches, some of which don't function as churches any more but as museums and galleries.

Not technically located within Šibenik, but definitely close enough to be considered a local highlight, Krka National Park lies merely a few kilometers to the north-east of the city. This superb national park is truly exceptional. You'll have to discover why by putting it on "what to see" list while in Šibenik.

The Cathedral of St James is the only European building of which the interior shape corresponds entirely with its exterior features. It's considered that St James Cathedral is the most important renaissance building in Croatia.

Some of the filming locations for Game of Thrones were in the historical centre Square of the Republic of Croatia, surrounded by historical edifices such as The Cathedral of St James and City Hall.
