DID YOU KNOW?

...that the famous 1987 ACI Match Race crossed its first miles precisely in Rovinj. Three decades later, ACI is going to upgrade that celebrated period with a luxurious marina and an offer for the demanding clientele.

...that every summer since 1967 Rovinj has been the venue of a unique open-air art exhibition and the town's most iconic cultural event – the Grisla. It's named after the street that connects the main town square and the Church of St. Euphemia.

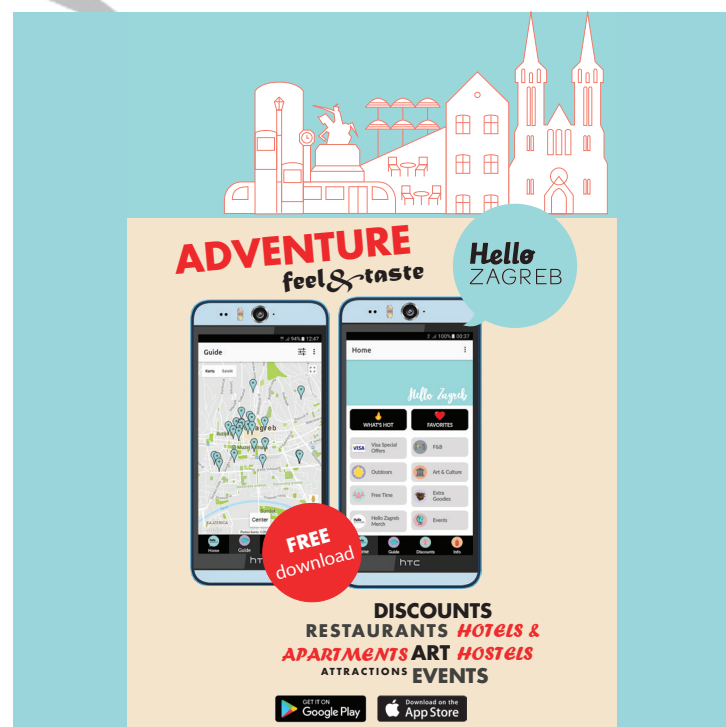

...that in 1963 Rovinj was declared a monument of culture. Known as the city of love and romance; a city of artists, who especially love it in the summer, when its streets turn into open art galleries. It is a city of renaissance-baroque palaces. Rovinj is also reflected in batanas, typical flat bottom vessels, recognized and protected by UNESCO. In one word, Rovinj is a tourist pearl with numerous hotels in the city and islands in front of the city port or nearby.

DID YOU KNOW?

...that south Istria is one of the most popular destinations for windsurfing and kite surfing enthusiasts. As it is surrounded by sea on three sides, this part of Istria is very windy in all seasons. Whether it's a gale-force southern wind (jugo), the bura, the heavy tramontane, or the strong summer maestral – surfers will never find themselves without wind, guaranteeing them a great time in and around Pomer.

...that the attraction of Pomer was recognized by ancient Romans, who used to build their country houses there. This old fishing village will be an ideal haven for all those searching for the unspoiled Mediterranean and its natural and culinary delights. The ancient tradition of fish and shell farming is still practiced here, and boaters who come to Pomer never miss the opportunity to savor superb seafood dishes, prepared according to recipes that date back as much as a thousand years.

DID YOU KNOW?

...that Pula has the world's largest amphorae find site. More than two thousand amphorae were found in the waters around Pula, and a permanent exhibition of these unusual vessels, used in antiquity for storing and transporting olive oil, wine, salted fish and preserved fruit, can be visited in the underground passages of the Pula Amphitheatre.

...that the renowned National Geographic Traveler recommended a visit to Istria and its capital of Pula to its readers, ranking them among the 10 most attractive travel destinations in the world.

...that today Pula boasts several summer music festivals, the largest film festival in the region as well as concerts of international music stars, while the nearby Brijuni Islands are home to a theatre company whose first performances are attended by Hollywood's and Europe's A-list celebrities.

...that ACI marina Pula is a true city marina, located at the very heart of Pula. Also, it is the only marina on the Mediterranean that offers a unique view of the Roman amphitheater.

The new ACI marina in Rovinj

will be a modern marina of superior design with the latest technological solutions and with all the services of the highest standards in the world's nautical tourism, as well as the first ACI marina with the highest categorization – of five anchors. It will have a total of 192 moorings or berths for boats of average length of 18 meters, and will bring together all the technical and support services and it will be the most modern nautical one stop shop destination. The reconstruction of the marina will last until the 2018.

ACI marina Pula

The enormous natural harbor has been used since early Antiquity, and it served as the main naval harbor of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy. In the very heart of this historic harbor, only meters away from the Arena, lies the 194- boat berth (moorings). Airport is only 5 km away. Istria's largest city, Pula brims with historical sights, the grandest of which is certainly the Roman amphitheater. Locally known as the Arena, it is one of the best-preserved Roman Imperial buildings in the world, testifying to the turbulent and millennia-long history of this region.
