RANDOM FACTS

Euphrates Basilica is one the best preserved monuments of Byzantine art in Croatia. Through the whole complex of Euphrates basilica, you can see a variety of art objects from the early Christian, Medieval and early Byzantine periods and various other monuments from different time periods. Despite the damage to the church because of earthquakes, fires, wars etc., the floor mosaics in the church have remained preserved and today are an example of early Christian art.

Of all the beaches in Poreč, two must be pointed out. One is the «Gradsko kupalište» beach and the other is Brulo beach, because of their exceptional quality. They even received an award, a blue flag which goes to clean and ordered beaches in the whole world.

Poreč open air - Poreč is the only town in Croatia which has an all summer lasting festival that is divided in 4 categories of events; street performance, music nights, cinema and theatre and special events. Circus in Poreč on Mondays turns the city into an open air circus, there is music on every corner of the old city center. Sundays are for the fun but educational programs called Istria in spirit, displaying everything Istria and Poreč are special for, from history to gastronomy.

Pit Baredine, near Poreč, is a treasury of stalagmites and stalactites. The underground sculptures are a product of patient work of the water that went on for centuries. There are many marvelous sigma forms, a very realistic statue of the virgin, the body of the Milka shepherd, a tower from Pisa and others. A special interest for people in this adventure is also meeting the underground living world, like the olm, in Croatia called Human Fish.

Forested hills, hidden valleys, tight roads along the river areas of central Istria are fertile areas of truffles. Ideal climate is responsible for the rich habitat of this underground mud with a specific taste and smell. A gastronomic secret awaits for you in the top notch Poreč and Istrian taverns and offers you only the best of Istrian truffles.
